FROM THE TOP >> It's tradition to present artists who play at TD Garden, Boston, with their own championship banner. Now, New Kids on the Block have the most custom championship banners ever. They've got one from The Package Tour in 2012, one from Boston Strong in 2013, and now, one from The Main Event Tour in 2015. (Photo by Steve Babineau)

Jay Marciano, COO, AEG; Taylor Swift; Dan Beckerman, CEO AEG; and Gary Gersh, president, Global Talent, AEG Live, smile for the camera before Swift took the stage as one of the headliners of the Barclaycard Presents British Summer Time Hyde Park in London.

Take That are honored by the Genting Arena in Birmingham, England, for their seven sold-out shows at the venue over May and June. The band was presented with commemorative tickets by General Manager Guy Dunstan; Sarah Scriven and Tony Hayes, senior event managers; and Alex Ginever, senior account manager.

Tim Hassett, general manager, presents members of Imagine Dragons with Pittsburgh Penguins jerseys before their show at Consol Energy Center on June 19.

FROM THE TOP >> Luke Bryan performs at BOK Center, Tulsa, Okla., on June 18.

A unique cake and West Texas photographic art were presented to Gabriel Iglesias before a record-breaking, three-day sold-out stint at the Wagner Noël Performing Arts Center, Midland, Texas, by SMG's Ty Sutton, general manager, Stephanie Rivas, director of Marketing, and Paul Meloche of ICON Concerts.

Before opening at Georgia Dome, Atlanta, Eric Church poses with Adam Straight, Jason Kirksey, Rebecca Mobley, Julia Karrenbauer, Erik Waldman and Carl Adkins on June 13.
